CATEGORIES

STAGE DANCES

(fantasy, musical/stage jazz, variety show dances, American jazz: classic, Broadway, Latin jazz dances)

It is a form of dance based on a story or topic. Choreographies entering this category can represent a story and can be based on characters, emotions, colours, moods or one word, but they can be based on dance purely. The choreography and the performance of the dancer have to possess a high quality show factor. The appearance of the dancer plays a significant role in scoring.

Show dance can be based on any type of jazz, ballet and/or modern and contemporary dance techniques. Part of it can be a different genre of dance, however, it cannot dominate the performance. Lifting, acrobatics, tools and lip-sync are permitted. Acrobatic movements cannot dominate and they have to be used in accordance with the topic. If it is not so, scoring for techniques is to be low. Use of visual props and tools are recommended to use for the sake of the message and to make the show even more spectacular. However, it is not obligatory.

Dance shows have to be in harmony with the music as well as the choreography has to be like a show. It should not be a simple modern dance, gymnastics or ballet performance.

ARTISCTIC SHOW DANCES

(classical ballet, modern ballet, eurhythmics, modern jazz, contemporary dances)

Modern dance is a calm and free-style dance where the choreographer uses emotions and moods. Modern dance elements such as Graham, Limon, Metox, Cunningham, etc. are to be applied. However, it does not mean they can only be applied in their original forms, that is why contemporary trends are allowed to be integrated in modern techniques. The choreography can tell a story, represent a person or a character. Any kind of contemporary or modern dance style is allowed to perform in harmony with the music without any message. The contemporary trend provides information about the body and its operation, furthermore, it provides opportunities to create new movements with new chorographical possibilities.

Use of visual props and tools are recommended to use for the sake of the message and to make the show even more spectacular. However, it is not obligatory.

Movements, characteristics: The choreography must include modern techniques and current trends in a way that they should be in harmony with the skills of the age group and the dancers. Contemporary ballet should not be confused with modern dance.

AKROBATICAL SHOW DANCES

(acrobatics/gymnastics dances, free show)

This type of dance is an acrobatic show dance in which any kind of dance techniques can be applied. The performance does not have to be based on a story or emotional expressions. It can include acrobatic elements, static elements, jumps, turnovers, rolling, flips, airy or controlled movements, etc.

The production must be performed in a way to represent an acrobatic dance show instead of a gymnastic exercise. Fitness exercises can be entered in this category, however, main part of the scoring is based on dance moves. Therefore, dance parts should be emphasized instead of the gymnastic elements considering the choreography.

The following items MUST NOT be applied:

- × Choreographies based on Aerobic and sport Rock 'n' Roll movements
- × Height of the liftings and throws from one hand to the other higher than the dance itself
- × Falling on knees, belly or back from jumps
